CLOSE UP OF WATER

The Ceramic Coating Demo Hood Display is a professional, plug-and-play display designed to showcase the real-world performance of ceramic protection—live and in action. Built to highlight the hydrophobic effect of ceramic coating, this self-contained unit helps turn interest into informed decisions. Available in various sizes, it fits seamlessly into any showroom environment, from desktop displays to floor setups.

Why Ceramic Retailers Love This Display

LIVE DEMONSTRATION WITH INTEGRATED LIGHTING AND WATER CIRCULATION

A mini water pump with integrated drip system work together to create continuous flow, clearly showcasing the hydrophobic effect in real-time under any showroom lighting conditions.

CUSTOMIZABLE DISPLAY HOOD

Hoods are provided in black and red and built to support both ceramic coating and paint protection film (PPF) applications. It can also be personalized with your dealership's logo to align with your brand identity and showroom aesthetic.

PROFESSIONAL ENCLOSED DESIGN

Includes a sleek plexiglass display case that's durable, clean, and adaptable for both countertop and floor use. Flexible display sizing and hood colour options to maximize presence.

WHAT MAKES US DIFFERENT?

This display is purpose-built for ceramic coating demos—no setup, no mess, and no cleaning required. It's fully enclosed, self-contained casing provides a professional, low-maintenance alternative to open or DIY drip displays, delivering consistent results every time.
